OUR Responsibility

Here at Trojan we aim to make a difference by ensuring two things. The first is that our employees can operate and feel comfortable in a safe and secure workplace. The second is that we maintain a healthy balance between the economy and our ecosystem.

Through investment, training and developing effective internal processes we endeavour to create a positive, ethical working environment. Our dedicated, highly skilled team are fully trained and supported at every step.

The environment is a key concern for Trojan and as such, we are constantly working to ensure our impact on the ecosystem is as minimal as possible. As well as on-site recycling facilities, we manufacture products that will in turn allow consumers to monitor their own impact on the world's resources.

Trojan are proud members of the British Safety Council. Since its foundation in 1957, the British Safety Council has campaigned tirelessly to protect workers from accidents, hazards and unsafe conditions, and played a decisive role in the political process that has led to adoption of landmark safety legislation in the UK.

With members in more than 60 countries, the BSC is committed to protecting and improving the wellbeing of workers believing that a healthy and safe work environment is also good for business. Here at Trojan, we have always had the same beliefs, with our workforce at the forefront of all investment.

The local community

We also believe the local community is as important as the global environment, so are proud to support and work alongside local charities.

For more information visit www.ruddisretreat.org a local charity we continue to support.

OUR Philosophy

According to national charity DLF (Disabled Living Foundation), there are 13.3m disabled people in the UK yet only 17% are born with their disability, most acquiring their disability in later life. For every 1,000 people of working age in the UK, there are 308 of pensionable age, with this projected to increase to 365 by 2037. The ageing population and therefore the affect that this has on housing and specialised equipment, cannot be underestimated.

1.9m households contained at least one person who felt that their condition meant they required some adaptations to their home; the most common adaptations being grab rails, a new bath or shower to replace the bath.*

Through ongoing research, we know that many consumers are trying to 'future proof' their bathrooms and installing walk-in baths a lot earlier in their lives as they see them as being highly practical as well as ensuring every member of the household can always have the pleasure of a bath, no matter what their age or physical ability.

While in the past a product that helped to aid 'independent living' was never seen to be stylish, consumer demands are changing and just because an individual has some physical limitations, does not mean that this has to negatively impact the design and style of their home.

Here at Bathe Easy, we wanted to be sure that we had a range that offered not only a safe product but looked great too. As we all age, it doesn't mean we lose our sense of style or want a less aspirational bathroom and we wanted to develop our range so that everybody living in the home would be proud to futureproof their bathrooms with products that they know will stand the test of time – both functionally as well as aesthetically.

In relaunching the Bathe Easy brand, we are looking to introduce a wider range of products that cater to all generations, focussing more on a beautiful bathroom that offers extra functionality for all users rather than just products designed specifically for a disability. We hope you have enjoyed reading about all of our fantastic Bathe Easy products and welcome you to come and visit our Huddersfield site to hear more about all Trojan brands.

Many thanks
